What to expect

① We review your report

Our specialists in the Civil Rights Division carefully read every report to identify civil rights violations, spot trends, and determine if we have authority to help with your report.

② Our specialists determine the next step

We may decide to:

Open an investigation or take some other action within the legal authority of the Justice Department.

Collect more information before we can look into your report.

Recommend another government agency that can properly look into your report. If so, we'll let you know.

In some cases, we may determine that we don't have legal authority to handle your report and will recommend that you seek help from a private lawyer or local legal aid organization.

③ When possible, we will follow up with you

We do our best to let you know about the outcome of our review. However, we may not always be able to provide you with updates because:

We're actively working on an investigation or case related to your report.

We're receiving and actively reviewing many requests at the same time.

If we are able to respond, we will contact you using the contact information you provided in this report. Depending on the type of report, response times can vary. If you need to reach us about your report, please refer to your report number when contacting us. This is how we keep track of your submission.

What you can do next

① Contact local legal aid organizations or a lawyer if you haven't already

Legal aid offices or members of lawyer associations in your state may be able to help you with your issue.

Legal Services Corporation (or Legal Aid Offices), to help you find a legal aid lawyer in your area visit www.lsc.gov/find-legal-aid

② Get help immediately if you are in danger

If you reported an incident where you or someone else has experienced or is still experiencing physical harm or violence, or are in immediate danger, please call 911 and contact the police.

Personal description

In your own words, describe what happened

On July 4, 2024, I, Ryan Hell, and my disabled friend (Type 1 diabetic with a brain tumor) were stranded in Chelan County, WA, after a flat tire on Colockum Rd. I called 911 for her diabetic shock. The dispatcher refused an ambulance, hung up, and rudely insisted a city councilman and mechanic take us to a ranch house (7599 Colockum Rd), promising medical help. No ambulance arrived. At the ranch, we were separated. I was beaten, struck in the head, and extorted for $1,000 cash by off-duty dispatchers, who threatened to kill me. Video evidence at the courthouse shows one dispatcher threatening to “beat my ass” for refusing to pay for “saving” my friend’s life, despite no medical aid. They tried to provoke a fight, likely for a “justifiable homicide” setup. I refused to abandon my friend, a disabled diabetic, fearing they’d kill her and frame me. The police report (Incident 24C06401) notes a dispatcher’s sheriff deputy accomplice saying I needed to “disappear for good.” Former Seattle City Councilwoman Sally Bagshaw fled the scene off-road, nearly hitting me, as voices yelled, “Go now, police can’t see you!” I posted photos of this on Twitter/Facebook. The tow truck driver, on video, denied any bill or impound, yet I was arrested for felony harassment (RCW 9A.46.020.2bii) based on a fabricated dispute. My lawyers have stonewalled or resigned; evidence may vanish. I’m now gang-stalked by violent groups on my usual paths, fearing for my life as a whistleblower. Washington’s FBI, law firms, and ACLU refuse to act. My DOJ complaint (612685-QZC) was rejected for “insufficient details” despite a 500-character form limit. Investigate this conspiracy, civil rights violations, and ongoing stalking. Contact me for evidence.
